Steve,

Thanks for forwarding me that map from Jhana. I have the Regional GIS support contractors and the EPA National GIS ER workgroup looking for the source spatial data that is being displayed on the many websites out there. If you run into something of interest please send it to me since I'm the PDO this week.

GeoMac is the public Federal land resource agencies site for forest (grass) fire response information. It was established so all agencies were operating from the same base info.
